Department description

The Market Access team is responsible for optimizing public and private access to current and future innovative drug products for all patients in Canada. The team works cross-collaboratively with our Medical, Regulatory Affairs, and Commercial teams to develop and execute on our access plans and to monitor and shape the policy environment.

Responsibilities

- Working with the Market Access/Health Economics & Outcomes Research managers to develop strategies to expand, maintain, and maximize reimbursement for new and existing products for both public and private payers across multiple therapeutic areas.
- Assist the field-based teams in carrying out our tactics.
- Monitor federal and provincial policy changes, and health assessment decisions in key therapeutic areas by the Canadian Agency for Drugs and Technologies in Health (CADTH) and the Institut national d'excellence en santé et services sociaux (INESSS) as well as observe the pan-Canadian Pharmaceutical Alliance's activities, to better understand the competitive landscape in the short, medium, and long-term.
- Prepare submission dossiers for CADTH, INESSS, and private payers, which could include budgetary and economic analyses, among other materials.
- Support the Pipeline Strategy team with the assessment of new assets, including preparing presentations for internal and external meetings, as well as developing written and oral responses to our AbbVie Global team for exclusive assets.
- Analytical support for the development of the pricing strategies of new products in accordance with the Patented Medicines Price Review Board regulations and in alignment with AbbVie Global's pricing strategy and payer considerations.

Preferred qualifications

- Capability to think strategically.
- Skills in data interpretation and analysis.
- Ability to work independently as well as cross-collaboratively.
- Excellent communication skills (includes technical writing).
- Strong project management skills (organization, prioritization, and follow-up).
- Attention to details.
