

Ravi Deshpande

Ravi Deshpande is currently Chief Business Development Officer of ELNA Medical Group, a national operator of primary and specialty care clinics and medical laboratories.

Formerly Senior Vice President of M&A and Strategy at McKesson Canada, he led the acquisitions of Rexall, Drug Trading, Remedy, GMD Distributing and the AIM Medical Group, among others. He also founded the FDA risk management services at McKesson Corp, based in Scottsdale, AZ.

Prior to that Ravi founded Phase 4 Health, a specialty pharmaceuticals service, research & pharmacy firm that was acquired by McKesson Canada.

A pharmacist by training, he has also worked in academic hospital settings in Ontario, New York State and North Carolina.

